I got involved with running 7 years ago, when I decided she didn't really have a good reason not to. From a barely be able to run for a minute at a time, to a 5k, to completing my first marathon in the first year, running became a beloved past-time. At this time, I have completed 7 marathons and 14 half-marathons, and believes I have not run my last of either. I got into pacing, because of my love for races, and realization that if I was going to be slow and steady, I might as make myself useful! Hah! I love helping people reach their goals and look forward to meeting new runner-friends during every race.
