

3:15 - Gerad Mead

I ran my first marathon in 2005 at the Twin Cities Marathon. I swore off marathons forever that day, but here I am still going 60+ marathons/ultras and many, many toenails later. Of all the races I've done my favorite is probably the Carlsbad Marathon in California. There is no better reprieve from a Minnesota winter than to travel to California in January and run along the coast as the sun comes up. Simply beautiful. I've run different races at the Fargo Marathon over the years and really enjoy the event and the city. I look forward to pacing the 3:15 group and helping runners accomplish their goals at the 2017 Fargo Marathon!
