

5:30 – Kristina Funseth

I started running marathons on a dare. My first marathon was in 2006, and after that marathon I said I would never run another full marathon. I guess I was wrong because in 2009, I ran my second marathon. While training for my second marathon, I decided to run a marathon in all 50 states, and by Fargo I will have completed 29 states. Fargo will be my 40th marathon. I'm excited to pace Fargo, because I've run the full or the half marathon every year since 2007, with the exception of 2016 due to a wedding. I started pacing full and half marathons in 2012, and I love helping people reach their goals. There's nothing better than a sweaty hug at the finish line! I can't wait to meet the 5:30 marathon crew, and I'm excited to get you to your goal time!
