

3:25 – Mandy Elseth

I started running 13 years ago as a way to spend time outside. Fargo was my first marathon in 2006. I love running because I get to meet new people, and everyone has a story. I have run several marathons in different states. Runners are determined, strong, and positive. I love helping others achieve their goals. I will motivate you through the full 3 hours and 25 minutes. So, think of it as a long coffee break :)
